Farahan, a region nestled within the city of Arak in Iran, is renowned for its exquisite rug craftsmanship. Farahan rugs are a testament to the rich heritage and dedication to quality that this region embodies.

Crafted on a cotton foundation, Farahan rugs are predominantly made of soft and thin wool knots. This unique combination of materials results in rugs of exceptional quality and remarkable durability. Farahan rugs are celebrated not only for their beauty but also for their ability to withstand the test of time.

One notable gem among our collection is the Farahan Rug with the code 6761. This exquisite rug boasts a delightful floral design set against a calming gray backdrop. The border of the rug is adorned with ivory, adding an element of contrast and elegance. The versatility of this rug allows it to seamlessly complement both traditional and modern interior settings, making it a timeless piece of décor.

At Aladdin Rugs, we take pride in curating a selection of Farahan rugs that capture the essence of this storied tradition. Each rug in our collection reflects the artistry, quality, and history that Farahan rugs are celebrated for. We invite you to explore our range of Farahan rugs and discover the perfect addition to your home's décor—a piece that tells a tale of tradition and quality woven into every thread.
