Are you in search of a statement piece to elevate the aesthetic of your living space? Look no further than the exquisite 9.5x11.9 stone washed, oxidized wool rug with a low pile and silk raised design. This transitional design masterpiece boasts a harmonious blend of green and ivory as its main colors, with a touch of red adding a pop of vibrancy. The washed-out look of the rug exudes a sense of timeless elegance and sophistication, making it a perfect addition to any home decor style.

EMBRACING TRANSITIONAL DESIGN

Transitional design seamlessly combines traditional and contemporary elements, creating a versatile and balanced aesthetic that appeals to a wide range of tastes. The 9.5x11.9 stone washed rug embodies the essence of transitional design with its classic color palette and intricate silk raised design. Whether your home decor leans towards classic elegance or modern minimalism, this rug effortlessly bridges the gap between different styles, adding a touch of sophistication to any room.

THE ALLURE OF STONE WASHED, OXIDIZED WOOL

The stone washed, oxidized wool used in crafting this rug not only adds a unique texture and depth but also enhances the durability and longevity of the piece. The low pile of the rug makes it ideal for high-traffic areas, providing both comfort and functionality. The silk raised design adds a luxurious touch, creating a captivating visual interest that draws the eye and elevates the overall aesthetic of the rug.

GREEN, IVORY, AND RED: A TIMELESS COLOR COMBINATION

Green and ivory serve as the main colors of this stunning rug, evoking a sense of tranquility and sophistication. The addition of red as a secondary color adds a dynamic contrast, infusing the design with energy and warmth.
